TIPS FOR YOU IN YOUR HOMESTAY

Your host family is sharing their home because they want to. Be part of the family and respect them. Respect the house as a home – it is not a hotel. Respect the personal and private property of your host family.

Communication between you and your host family is essential to a successful arrangement.

Say “thank you” often so they know you appreciate them.

Share yourself and your country with your family – after all, this is one of the reasons they wanted to host you. Talk about life at home, show pictures and point out differences and similarities.

Remember – it’s not right, it’s not wrong, it’s just different.

It is up to you as the student to adapt to the lifestyle that already exists in the home, not the other way around.

Ask questions and say if you do not understand.

Discuss rules, household chores and mealtimes with your host parents during the first week. It is best to know what is expected right from the start.

Always tell your homestay where you are going and when you are coming home.

You are expected to eat with the family. In New Zealand most families eat together at a regular time at the table.

Be on time! Do not be late for meals, appointments, and coming home in the evening. Phone your host family if you will not be home for dinner, or if you will be late home.

Join in your family’s activities. Your participations in outing, visiting relatives, helping to prepare a special dinner, or in any activity your host family enjoys, shows that you want to be a real member of the family.

Expect to pay for your personal expenses. Your family is not responsible for buying your shampoo, clothing or entertainment costs.

Discuss with your host family, any plans you make and get their approval before finalising your plans. They need to know where you are at all times.

Weeknights should be spent at home unless you have sport or other school activities.

If you want to stay away from home during the weekend you must have the permission of the Director of International Students (Sharon Beaumont), and they need the name and phone number of where you will be.

Don't expect your family to host your visitors (although some will offer to do this). Your family agreed to host you – please do not expect them to be a hotel if any members of your family should visit.

Don't borrow money from your hosts. If you have a problem with money, tell your Director of International Students.

Most New Zealand families go to bed around 10.00pm during the week. Please be considerate and do not play loud music or use your computer late at night.

Before you call your parents at home if you feel you have a problem, talk to your host family, Director of International Students (Sharon Beaumont) or Dean. It is best to solve problems where they are happening and calling your parents can cause them unnecessary worry.

On the following pages you will find extra information to help you in your homestay and also general information to help you in Dunedin.

You must pay for your own mobile phone, international and national calls.

BEDROOM

Please feel free to study in your room but do not spend all your time in your bedroom. Try to talk to your family about different things every day. You may have many things to share and talk with your host family. It will assist your English.

Members of your host family will generally knock on your door but some (small children) may walk into your room without knocking. This is because they are treating you as a family member. Try not to worry about this. Talk to your family if it continues to bother you.

There are no locks on bedroom doors in our country. If a door is shut, please knock.

The bed may be different from your country. We sleep between the sheets which we wash each week. Ask your family to show you how to make your bed.

Keep your room tidy. Please empty your own rubbish bags.

New Zealand families like to let sunlight and fresh air into bedrooms. We pull back the curtains and open the windows during the day. Please ask advice before opening the windows.

Most New Zealand families go to bed about 10.00pm. If you stay up later, make sure you turn the lights and heaters off. It is our custom to say "goodnight" to each other before we go to bed.

USING THE SHOWER AND BATHROOM

Ask your family what time is best to have your shower or bath. When taking a shower, pull the curtain across or shut the shower door and put a bath mat on the floor. Do not throw water on the floor. Take only 5-10 minutes in the shower. We usually shower once per day.

LAUNDRY

Talk to your host parents about washing your clothes, they may do it for you in which case you will need to ask where you are to put clothes to be washed. You may decide to wash your own, you will need to ask your host family when the best time may be to do so. If you wish to do hand washing, it is done in the laundry, not in the bathroom. Your host family will show you where the clothes line is - this is the best place to dry your clothes.

Remember: you must not hang wet clothing and underwear in your wardrobe or bedroom or over a heater. Dripping water can damage carpet and furniture.

Do not place wet clothes on heaters or close to heaters to dry. This can cause a fire.

MEAL TIMES AND EATING

Start your meal when your family starts to eat. It is a good idea to compliment the person who cooked the meal. He/she will appreciate it.

In New Zealand we eat quietly. This is the polite way in our culture. For some of you it is the custom to eat noisily (for example with soup or noodles). For us this is very bad manners.

Remember to ask someone to pass the salt, salad, sauce etc to you. It is good to pass these things to other people. Do not reach over the table.

It is OK to say “no thank you” to food you do not like. Your family will not mind. But do try a few new foods. It is all part of your New Zealand experience.

We usually stay at the table until everyone has finished eating.

Host families may appreciate help to set the table, clear the table, do the dishes etc.

Ask your family what food you can eat between meals.

You may want to cook for your family. Talk to your host family about this, as New Zealand stoves are different to those in your county.

Don't use your mobile phone or electronic devices at meal times, this is rude.

Lunches: talk to your family about lunches. Tell them what you like and what you don't like, talk about who will prepare your lunch and when.

Remember: You must always tell your family in advance when you will not be home for a meal.

FAMILY OUTINGS

It is fun to join in with the family outings and visits. This is a chance to see the country, make new friends and practice you're English. If your family goes somewhere that involves expense, for example, a movie, offer to pay your share. This may be different from your own country where a host may pay for everything. Please be friendly when meeting new people.

If you can't speak the language a smile is a good start.

New Zealanders enjoy family pets. Most houses have a cat or dog, which may live inside.

KEEPING WARM

New Zealand houses are usually bigger and much colder than those in your country. This living area is usually heated.

Electricity is very expensive in New Zealand.

Most New Zealand people prefer to wear a warm jersey than turn on a heater. It is essential to have warm clothes, as Dunedin's weather can be very changeable.

Don't leave your heater on for long periods of time. Always turn it off when you leave the room or go to sleep.

Warm the room and then turn the heater off.

Some families use an electric blanket to warm the bed. Do not sleep with the blanket turned on.

Be very careful using multi boards for heaters, phones and laptops, overloading can cause fire. Never leave them charging on a bed.

TRANSPORT

All local buses are "pay as you enter". It is much cheaper to buy a multi trip pass. You can ask the bus driver or a passenger to tell you when your stop is near. Information on bus services can be found at...

<https://www.orc.govt.nz/public-transport/bee-card/>

We ask you to taxi home after dark. It is not safe to walk around the city alone at night. Most host families will ask that confirm your travel arrangements before you go out.

In New Zealand you must wear a seat belt in a car.

You must wear a cycle helmet when you ride a bicycle. Do not ride on the footpath.

You must not drive or own a car while at Bayfield, or be driven by another student, unless they have a "full driver's license". However, if you wish to gain a Learner License, you must get permission from the school Principal.

VALUABLES/MONEY

Be careful with money. Carry only what you think you will need. Look after your valuables (eg: cameras, phones, laptops etc.) carefully. Not everyone is honest. Do not lend money to other students.

A bank account and a cash card can be arranged for you by either your host family or the Director of International Students (Sharon Beaumont).

Remember: You should carry your school ID and the address and phone number of your host family at all times.

HEALTH

Please speak with your host mother/father about any problems. Do not be embarrassed as changes in climate and food can often affect your health.

If you are sick your host parent may make an appointment for you to see a doctor. There is a charge for visits to the doctor and for medicines, keep all receipts and you can claim your money back on your Health Insurance at a later date (Sharon can assist you to make a claim).

The school must be phoned if you are unwell and will not be coming to school. Please phone 455 0113 and advise the student office.

GAMING

It is expected that you keep gaming and your time on electronic devices to a minimum.

We strongly encourage our Homestay Parents to turn their Wi-fi off at a reasonable time at night (11pm at the latest) and if possible, have all devices docked in the living area over night.

If you appear to be falling behind, are late for school and/or sleepy in class because of excessive gaming we will notify your parents and agent and request permission to confiscate your electronic devices. The devices will be held by us until there is an improvement in your schooling.

QUESTIONNAIRE FOR FIRST WEEK WITH NEW HOST FAMILY

What do I call you? Mum, Dad or First name?

I am expected to make my bed, tidy my room daily and clean the bathroom after I use it. What else am I expected to do daily?

What do I do with my dirty clothes? Where do I keep them until wash day?

Should I wash my own underclothes?

What if I want to wash my own clothes?

May I use the iron and washing machine any time?

Where do I keep my bathroom and toilet stuff?

What is the best time for me to use the bathroom on weekday mornings?

Is it best for me to shower in the morning or evening? How much time can I spend under the shower?

What time are meals during the week and at the weekend?

What do I do if I am not going to be home for a meal? What happens at the weekend?

Would you like me to have a permanent responsibility at mealtimes? eg: set the table, clear the table, wash up, dry the dishes, empty the rubbish bin etc.

Appendix 1: Summary Code of Practice for the Pastoral Care of International Students

Introduction

When students from other countries come to study in New Zealand, it is important that those students are well informed, safe, and properly cared for.

New Zealand educational providers have an important responsibility for international students' welfare.

This booklet provides an overview of the "Code of Practice for the Pastoral Care of International Students" (the Code) and provides a procedure that students can follow if they have concerns about their treatment by a New Zealand educational provider or agent of a provider.

What is the Code?

The Code is a document that provides a framework for service delivery by educational providers and their agents to international students. The Code sets out the minimum standards of advice and care that are expected of educational providers with respect to international students. The Code applies to pastoral care and provision of information only, and not to academic standards.

Who does the Code apply to?

The Code applies to all education providers in New Zealand with international students enrolled. The Code is mandatory to these providers and must be signed by them.

What is an "international student"?

An "international student" is a foreign student studying in New Zealand.

How can I get a copy of the Code?

You can request a copy of the Code from your New Zealand education provider. The Code is also available online from www.nzqa.govt.nz/providers-partners/education-code-of-practice/

How do I know if an education provider has signed the Code?

The New Zealand Ministry of Education maintains a register of all signatories to the Code. This is available online from www.nzqa.govt.nz/providers-partners/education-code-of-practice/ If the education provider that you are seeking to enrol with is not a signatory to the Code, you will not be granted a permit from the New Zealand Immigration Service and you will not be able to study at that institution.

What do I do if something goes wrong?

If you have concerns about your treatment by your education provider or by an agent of the provider, the first thing you must do is contact the principal, the international student director, or another person who has been identified to you as someone that you can approach about complaints at your institution. The Code requires all institutions to have fair and equitable internal grievance procedures for students and you need to go through these internal processes before you can take the complaint

What to do if you have a complaint

When you come to New Zealand as an international student, you can expect to receive a high standard of education, and to feel safe and well cared for while you live and study here.

If you have a complaint, it is important that you go through the right steps.

Here is what you need to do.

Ask your education provider to resolve your complaint

Your education provider is your first point of contact for any complaint you have, including any complaint about the agents your provider uses.

They must have a complaints process in place for you to go through, and they must tell you what that process is. Follow that process to see if your complaint can be resolved by your provider.

If your complaint is not resolved – contact NZQA

If your education provider has not resolved your complaint, and you still wish to have it resolved, then you can contact NZQA. NZQA is a government organisation. They can provide an independent assessment of your complaint and will either investigate your concerns or advise you what you can do next.

You can submit your complaint query on the NZQA website, or send an email to gadrisk@nzqa.govt.nz

If you need more information on the complaints process, contact NZQA on 0800 697 296.

Or – if it is a financial dispute – you can contact iStudent Complaints iStudent Complaints is available to help you resolve financial or contractual disputes with your education provider. There is no cost to you for this service.

iStudent Complaints is an independent service with experience in helping people to resolve disputes. You can contact iStudent Complaints on 0800 00 66 75.
